

Dear Valued Clients,

We have heard of cases of Canine Influenza (Dog Flu) circulating around the country.

There are no reported cases in Maryland, but we are strongly recommending you get your pup vaccinated against the virus.

Canine Influenza is a contagious respiratory virus that can produce symptoms such as coughing, wheezing, runny nose, eye discharge, lethargy, loss of appetite, and fever.

This is an airborne virus, meaning dogs can contract it during walks around the neighborhood or trails, visiting pet retail stores, trips to the vet, or any other time they come nose-to-nose with another dog.

If your dog is exhibiting any symptoms of Canine Influenza, please take them to the vet to receive treatment and get tested, and notify BFFE if your dog tests positive.

Please remember that at BFFE, we deep clean the entire resorts daily with the best pet-safe cleaning products, we have PetAirapy UV Light disinfectants installed around the entire resorts, and we require all major vaccines to be up-to-date in order to partake in any of our services.

As always, safety is our #1 priority, and we do everything in our power to keep your furbabies safe, healthy, and happy.
